His messages have reached millions through radio, television, and the internet.

Jeremy is the author of four books, including his best-seller titled "Inspired People Produce Results" (Published by McGraw-Hill).

He is a master storyteller and connects with audiences through the perfect blend of humor, content, inspiration, and relevant principles to help each individual. He believes that inspired people produce results and that people can change, grow, and fulfill their personal and professional goals.

His early years were spent in the frigid winters of Wisconsin and his teen years in the politically charged environment of Washington, DC. In both places Jeremy learned a lot about character, integrity, and passion. After playing three years on the varsity basketball team in high school, he scored over 1000 points and was named Conference Most Valuable Player his senior year. Jeremy has the heart of an athlete and understands the importance of commitment, determination, and purpose. He then went on to college and graduate-school, Jeremy holds bachelors and master's degrees from Columbia International University.

Jeremy and his wife Dawn live in Columbia, South Carolina with their sons, Jaden and Dylan.

Jeremy is the author of four books, including his bestseller - Inspired People Produce Results.
